SONGS OF HOME CAUSE REJOICING

Scandinavian People Gather in Large Numbers to Hear Music of the Fatherland.

From every point of view the concert at the Tabernacle last evening was a success and a goodly sum was added to the fund being raised for the erection of the L. D. S. meeting-house in Stockholm, Sweden. Last night's audience was made up largely of Scandinavians, and the music was familiar and dear to the hearts of those people. There were several treats in store for the audience, the spiendld bass voice of Wilherd Andelin of Provo, the singing of the male quartette, including Mesers. Andelin, McAllister, Reid and Acord, and the duet by Miss Jepperson and Mr. Acord being among the number. There were, in addition to these, a number of selections by such old-time favorites as Willard Weihe, Prof. Anton Lund and Prof. Pedersen, while among the later favorites Miss Larson's bird-like voice was heard at its best in the beautiful "Star of the Mornand Miss Segrid Pederson was most enthusiastically applauded for her two solos, "Min Lilia Vra" and "Solvelg's Song," both by Grieg. The Scandinavian male chorus is made up of a number of good voices, as was the Scandinavian choir, both under the direction of Olof Nillson. Prof. McClel-lan, Prof. Lund and Prof. Pedersen were the accompanists of the evening. and needless to say the accompani-ments were all that could be desired. The Tabernacle choir rendered two "From Afar, Gracious Lord," which by the way is becoming a little thresome on account of its being so often sung, and the closing number, "America," given in splendid style. Miss Agnes Dahlquist was heard in two plane numbers, one a duet with Prof. Pedersen, the second a solo.

AT THE WESTMINSTER Presbyterian church, Rev. H. W. Rankin preached last night to a larger number than at any time since coming here. His text was the parable of the sower. He compared the held with the old farm in New York State, and from it drew many lessons. He said there were some people who come to the West and say they have been great church workers in the East, but here turn their backs on the church and God. The speaker did not say he doubted their sincerity, while in the East, but he did doubt their ever having been converted while there, and therefore we see here the kind of ground the seed has fallen into. Mr. Rankin will have a Bible reading this afternoon at 3.30 and preaching at 7.30. AT THE WESTMINSTER Presbyterian

PECULIAR CONTEST OVER UTAH LAND

Patent Given One Man by Local Commissioners and Another Man Claims It as Coal Land

The validity of a patent to land, issued by the State of Utah, is to be determined in an action to be tried in the United States land office on May 12th at 10 o'clock a. m. In 1896 the State sold a piece of land in Sanpete county to Marinus Beauregard, for which a patent was issued soon after the first of the present year. At the time of the sale the land was appraised by the State Board of Land Commissioners, who found no sign of coal. There is nothing on the United States map to indicate the presence of coal on the land in question, which also happend to be a school section. However, William R. Davis has filed an application in the land office to purchase the land under the coal laws. He has also filed affidavits showing that the land was known to contain coal at the time Utah was admitted as a State into the Union. land office considers the showing made by Davis sufficient to sell the land to The United States Land Commissloner has advised the State Board of Land Commissioners of the affidavits and application filed by Davis.

The State Land Board considered the matter at its regular monthly meeting yesterday and a resolution was adopted requesting the Attorney-General to be present at the trial and authorizing Mr. Beauregard to take what steps may be necessary in protecting his fittle to the land as acquired from the State. The land in controversy is de-scribed as follows: Lot 7, section 2, township 19 south, range 2 east, Sait Lake meridian,

"Western passenger men are attempting to induce immigrants to come further West this year than has been the rule," remarked a local railroad official. "The customary rates from New York to the far West have been so high that the average immigrant has been obliged to settle in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and other nearby States. The result is that the West does not get its share of the desirable immigrants. If the passenger agents will all get together on this matter it will not be long until the great farming lands of the West, that are open to cultivation, will be studded with fine homes and will add millions of dollars to the general wealth."

CHURCH IN UTAH

Miss Charlotte A. Mount of New York
City, through whose will a bequest of $5000 was left to the late Bishop Ablel Leonard of this city, belongs to the family who a few years ago gave the funds for the erection of St. Paul's church and rectory in this city. The family were great friends of the late Bishop Leonard and for several years have been interested in his work in Utah. The money left by Miss Mount was for church purposes, and will be used at the discretion of the new Bishop of Utah, who will be selected at the meeting of the House of Bishops next October.

MAKING PLANS FOR STATE CONVENTION

The arrangements for seating the delegates and the public at the Republican State convention to be held in the Theater next Friday at 10 a. m. are beng perfected. The decorations will be chiefly of the National colors. The parquet and dress circle will be reserved exclusively for delegates, the Sait Lake delegation, which is the largest, being assigned a place in the dress circle, to the right of the center alsle. The general public will be admitted to the balconies. No tickets will be issued. The stage will be occupied by officers and members of the State committee, by county chairmen so far as these may be present, and not included in delegations, by former chairmen of the State committee, and by present and former State officials. It is expected that there will be plenty of room for these and for their ladies, at least such of the officials as are not delegates. The Utah State band will furnish muic on the occasion.

The opening part of the programme will include the reading of the convention call by State Secretary Tom Pitt, and the introduction of the temporary chairman and secretary by State Chairman Anderson. The temporary organi-zation will then proceed with the busi-ness, which is expected to occupy three or four hours.

Alice Nielsen has gone into grand opera abroad, and a cablegram from Paris says. "Theatrical circles are deeply interested in Miss Alice Nielson, an American girl who has just passed from the field of modern musical comedy into grand opera. The Paris critics are loud in her praise and have the utmost confidence in her ability to sing her way into high favor. They pronounce her voice one of the very best on the continent and express the conviction that it has few equals. Miss Nielsen has just signed a contract to sing this season at Covent Garden, London. She will appear there in two of Mozart's operas, to be produced for the first time there."

Mrs. Leslie Carter is zeing to the coast in July, and will appear in "Du Barry" in the independent houses.

Margaret Anglin is on her way from England to appear with Henry Miller in "Camille" in New York.

Ida Conquest is Richard Mansheld's leading lady in "Ivan, the Terrible," and plays the queen. From "The Girl With the Green Eyes" to this play is a notable jump for any actress, and it proves Miss Conquest's adaptability and talent.

Mme. "We sent word to her, said A. M. Palmer, chairman of the board of governors, "that she would be more than welcome as a guest and that we had a special room waiting for her." She has made her home in Saratoga for the last four years with a friend.

Conried is a man of much less enterprise than Grau was, apparently. He is demanding a $4,000 guarantee from Philadelphia for an opera season. It is said that the reason he is not thinking of coming out to San Francisco is because he is afruid to without a guarantee. It is a very doubtful question whether our people would put up any guarantee. Graunever needed any guarantee and he made money here always. He even brought his entire outfit from Europe to San Francisco once without suggesting a guarantee, and he made a great profit.—San Francisco Chronicle.

UTAH BEE KEEPERS ELECT OFFICERS

The Utah Bee-Keepers' association met in regular annual session in this city yesterday and elected officers for the ensuing twelve months. The meeting was well attended, representatives from all quarters of the State being from all quarters of the State being present. The production of honey and proper care of bees was discussed at length, and the meeting was one of the most successful ever held. A short address was made by President E. S. Lovesy, in which he referred to the natural conditions being most promising for a productive and prosperous year for both the bee-keepers and the farmers. He strongly urged a stronger organization of the bee-keepers for the purpose of fostering and productives. purpose of fostering and protecting the honey interests of the State. In answer to a question from the outside a most comprehensive answer was given by T. R. G. Welch, telling what honey is and how it is made by the bee. He stated that honey was not only a food, but a

Colds Are Dangerous.

How often you hear it remarked: "It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common oc. currence that a cold, however slight should not be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. It always cures and is pleasant to take. For sale by all druggists
